(1) Business Developments and Results of the Corporate Group

<Resona Group Business Structure>

(B) Financial and Economic Environment

In the domestic economy, the results of the 2025 spring labor negotiations, which began in earnest in March 2025, near the fiscal year end, surpassed those of the 2024 negotiations, which had already seen the highest wage increase rates since 1991, leading to a continued improvement in the income environment for workers. In the labor market, demand for workers remains stable driven by labor shortages, and it is expected that the trend of wage increases will continue for the time being, because the labor market will continue to be the seller's market. On the other hand, price hikes are continuing, particularly for fresh foods such as rice and vegetables, and despite the improvement in income conditions, households are facing a situation where their purchasing power is not significantly increasing, as indicated by the stagnation in real wage growth. Although the results of the spring labor negotiations have been favorable for two consecutive years, there is uncertainty about whether companies can continue to raise wages without losing momentum amid increasing global economic uncertainty.

Overseas economic trends have become increasingly uncertain. At the new U.S. administration, which started in January 2025, President Trump has rapidly introduced trade policies, imposing additional tariffs on major trading partners. In response to these measures, there have been growing moves to impose retaliatory tariffs against the United States, raising concerns about the intensification of trade wars and the destabilization of the free trade system in the global economy. In the U.S. economy, while the upward pressure on domestic prices is increasing due to import tariffs, there are concerns about a slump in household consumption, leading to heightened fears of stagflation, where inflation and economic stagnation occur simultaneously. In Europe, there has been a growing view that excessive focus on fiscal reconstruction has led to economic stagnation, prompting moves to reform fiscal systems to enhance growth potential. In China, despite the introduction of large-scale economic measures to address the prolonged real estate recession and the accompanying financial system instability, the economy continues to stagnate.

Under such macroeconomic environment, in Japan, following the lifting of negative interest rates in March of the previous fiscal year, the Bank of Japan implemented additional rate increases in July and January, raising the policy interest rate to 0.5%, the highest level in 17 years. Despite the increasing uncertainty in the global economy, the mainstream outlook is that the Bank of Japan will continue to raise policy interest rates. On the other hand, in other countries, the monetary tightening measures implemented to curb inflation have reached a turning point. In the United States, the Federal Reserve (FRB) decided to initiate preventive monetary easing to avoid a large-scale recession, resulting in a total rate cut of 1 percentage point over three months starting in September. Similarly, in Europe, policy interest rates have been lowered based on the assessment that inflation is stabilizing. Furthermore, in China, monetary easing has been strengthened in response to government economic measures.

(C) Business Developments and Results of the Corporate Group and Issues to Be Addressed by the Corporate Group

The society is currently going through a phase of profound structural transition, including the trends towards Sustainability transformation (hereinafter "SX") / Digital transformation (hereinafter "DX"), and that are expected to ever more diverse issues confronting the Group's customers as well as regional societies require ever more sophisticated solutions.

Under the "Medium-term Management Plan (Acceleration of Realization of Retail No. 1)" established and announced in May 2023, the Group has been proceeding with the enhancement of its value creation capabilities by pursuing the further development of business operations backed by the strengths of the Group and challenges for new value creation, as well as the development of the next-generation management platforms through the further enhancement of the consolidated management of the Group companies and the integral reforms of foundations.

As for the "enhancement of value creation capabilities", the Group has been proceeding with the development and provision of the solutions to address issues confronting customers and societies. The Group started to provide "loan specifically for vacant houses" to help solution of issues of vacant houses in May 2024, "loan to support carbon offsetting" to support measures by small- to medium-companies toward realization of carbon neutral in September 2024, and "ouchi kaigi" which is a web-based service to support hunt for a house of dream in January 2025, respectively. The Group will strive to enhance and make challenges in business responding to needs of customers and societies and taking advantage of the strength of the Group.

The "co-creation and expansion" of value through inorganic investments and the expansion of strategic alliances with regional financial institutions and companies in different industries has also made steady progress. As part of the capital and business alliance with Digital Garage Inc, the Group started handling the business-to-business card settlement service "Bill Card Payment Online" in October 2024 and the online settlement service for the medical industry "CurePort" in December 2024. In September 2024, the Group signed a business alliance agreement with JCB Co., Ltd. in the area of corporate settlements, and has been working on joint study and development of new solutions to improve the productivity of small- to medium-sized corporate customers. Going forward, the Group will continue to build and expand co-creation platforms that build win-win relationships with companies in different industries and regional financial institutions.

As part of the "next-generation management platform", in October 2024, the Group started operations of a new type of branch, "Resona!n(in)", based on a new concept. With the advent of a world with interest rates, customers' needs for face-to-face consultations on fund management and loans are increasing. By providing a place where financial services can be used more easily and more familiarly, the Group will strive to solve issues confronting customers. With the completion of Minato Bank's system renewal (integration of administration and systems) in January 2025, the Group has entered into a new phase to further strengthen the Group's consolidated operations. In order to establish a "one-platform, multi-regional strategy", the Group will strive to provide optimal value to customers based on the regional characteristics of each of the four banks more than ever, while pursuing efficiency through the centralisation of backyard and indirect departments.

[Toward Enhancement of Corporate Value]

The Group has been taking both financial and non-financial measures to increase corporate value. The Group considers that approaches to both "improvement in ROE" and "reduction of capital cost" will lead to improvement of PBR which shows recognition of the market.

To improve ROE, the Group will utilize its capital efficiently and improve profitability and efficiency of assets. As the return to a "world with interest rates" progresses, the Group will seek to improve ROA by developing its business to generate both net interest income and fee income, while continuing to control costs with the reform of its management platforms. In addition, the Group will strive to increase shareholder returns while expanding investments for growth from both organic and inorganic perspectives. The Group will aim to achieve continuous improvement in ROE by accelerating capital circulation that will increase its corporate value.

Under the current Medium-term Management Plan, the Group targets an ROE on shareholders' equity of 8% for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026, the final year of the Plan, and the actual result for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2025 was 9.3%, achieving such target one year ahead of schedule. The plan for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026 is 10.0%. In addition, as the presentation of ROE on the basis of TSE standard is desired by market participants, the Group commenced disclosure on that basis. The actual result for the year ended March 31, 2025 and the plan for the year ending March 31, 2026 are 7.8% and 8.4%, respectively.

From the viewpoint of reduction of capital cost, together with measures for ESG, the Group will proactively take measures to expand disclosure of financial and non-financial information so that the Group's sustainability would be understood. The Group will aim to establish a high-quality and stable income structure by managing risks appropriately in the era of heightened uncertainty.

Financial and Non-Financial Approaches to Improve Corporate Value

Changes in ROE

[Measures to Reduce Policy-oriented Stocks]

(a) Status of Reduction in Policy-oriented Stocks

- The basic policy of the Resona Group toward the policy-oriented stocks is to reduce its balance.
- As part of the financial reforms since the injection of public funds in 2003, the Company has reduced the policy-oriented stocks by approximately 1 trillion yen ahead of other companies, and has proceeded with further reductions through negotiations with customers, thereby making efforts to lessen the risk of price volatility.
- In May 2022, the Company announced a plan to reduce 80.0 billion yen in book value of the policy-oriented stocks during four years, and has reduced 44.2 billion yen for the two years through March 2024. As it achieved 55% of the plan, the Company has started a 6-year reduction plan (the "Current Plan") including the remaining two years of the previous plan from the fiscal year ended March 2025.
- The Current Plan aims to secure management resources necessary to create new value for customers and achieve the Group's continuous growth.

- By using funds to be generated through the reduction of the policy-oriented stocks, the Company will accelerate investments for the Group's continuous growth and proceed with measures for solution of issues confronting customers and societies and structural reforms and enhancement of business foundations necessary for corporate transformation (CX). The Company further intends to continuously increase return to its shareholders with increases in profits resulting from better circulation of capital.
- Under the Current Plan, the Company aims to reduce two-thirds or more of the policy-oriented stock on a book value basis by March 2030. The Company expects approximately the same rate of reduction on a market value basis, and aims their market value to be approximately 10% of the consolidated net assets. The Company considers that such ratio can reach or pass the 20% level by March 31, 2027 at the earliest.
- During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2025, the first year under the Current Plan, the Company reduced 34.5 billion yen on a book value basis. The achievement ratio to the plan for the six years is 19.8%, indicating a steady progress. The Company has not made transfers to investment securities.

(2) whether the way the vote is cast is consistent with the overall interest of shareholders.

b) In particular, before casting a yes or no vote on one of the following types of agenda items, give due consideration to whether voting contributes to growth in the investee's corporate value:

(2) introduction or renewal of anti-takeover measures;

(3) agenda items proposed by a corporation that was found to be implicated in a scandal or an anti-social act;

(4) approval of financial statements not backed by an unqualified opinion issued by the accounting auditor;

(5) dismissal of directors, accounting auditors, etc.

c) When a vote is cast in opposition to the Company's intention, the Board of Directors will review the status of the exercise of voting rights to confirm whether these guidelines were fully observed. Duty-based additional compensation: Paid in a fixed amount to executive officers who concurrently serve as directors at Resona Holdings or directors or corporate auditors at Group banks, etc., based on additional responsibilities associated with the recipient's duties

(a) Basic Approach

- (i) The compensation systems are designed to facilitate sound incentives and ensure appropriate supervisory functions toward continuous growth of the Resona Group and increases in its corporate value on a medium- to long-term basis.

- (ii) Remuneration for Directors and Executive Officers is determined by the Compensation Committee which in principle consists only of independent Outside Directors, following objective and transparent procedures.

(b) Policy for Determining Ratio of Remuneration of each Director and Executive Officer

(i) Position-based compensation

The position-based compensation is determined by the scope of responsibilities held by each individual. The ratio of the position-based compensation to the total remuneration of Executive Officers is as described in the "Compensation system for Executive Officers" above.

(ii) Annual incentive

Executive Officers are given annual incentives according to the performance of the Resona Group and the respective individuals for each fiscal year.

The ratio of the annual incentive to the total compensation is in principle higher for Executive Officers of higher rankings.

(iii) Medium-to-long-term incentive

Executive Officers are given medium-to-long-term incentives according to the performance of the Resona Group during the period of the Medium-term Management Plan.

The ratio of the medium-to-long-term incentive to the total compensation is in principle higher for Executive Officers of higher rankings.

(iv) Duty-based additional portion

The duty-based additional portion is paid based on additional responsibilities associated with the recipient's duties, when Executive Officers concurrently serve as Directors of the Company, Directors are appointed to act as members of the Nominating Committee, Compensation Committee or Audit Committee or Directors and Executive Officers concurrently serve as directors or corporate auditors at Group banks, etc.

(v) Additional allowances

The Group has been making efforts to establish an accountable management system, strengthen the monitoring and supervising functions for the management, and improve transparency of the management.

In June 2003, the Company changed its status to a company with a nominating committee, etc., as the first of such type among Japanese banking groups. Since then, the Company's Board of Directors has been engaged in active discussions with a majority of directors comprising outside directors. There has been a clear division of duties under which the Board of Directors makes decisions on important matters for management and supervises execution of business, while the executive officers execute business, so as to strengthen the supervising and decision-making functions of the Board of Directors.

In addition, while ensuring autonomy of each subsidiary company, the Company performs management and control of each subsidiary company so that the management is carried out in accordance with the basic policy for corporate governance, thereby enhancing the Group's corporate governance structure centered on the Company.

(b) Status of development of system regarding internal audit

The internal audit plays an important function, with the purpose of supporting enhancement of corporate value through assessing, evaluating and improving the status of management activities which the Company and the Group companies perform with an aim to establish a management control system and to ensure the soundness and appropriateness of their business operations and the trust of society.

In order to fulfil the purpose thereof, the Company has established the "Basic Policy on Group Internal Audit". Under the initiative of the Board of Directors, the Company has established the Internal Audit Division that is independent from business divisions and appointed an executive officer in charge solely of internal audit. Furthermore, with an aim to further enhance the Company's corporate governance through the strengthening of audit functions, relationships between the Internal Audit Division, the Board of Directors, the Audit Committee and the Representative Executive Officers are clearly defined. More specifically, the primary reporting line is set to the Board of Directors and the Audit Committee, and the Audit Committee has an explicit reporting line to give direct instructions to, and receive reports from, the Internal Audit Division. This structure aims to secure solid supervision over the Representative Executive Officers and others and provide check-and-balance functions over their activities.

In the event that any of the Group companies faces significant issues that could affect the Group's operations, the Company's Internal Audit Division performs audits in cooperation with the internal audit division of the relevant Group company.

(c) Status of development of system regarding compliance with laws and regulations

Having sincerely reflected on the fact that the Group received a large amount of public funds to strengthen its capital, and in recognition that an overhaul of the standards for judgments and behaviour and their penetration are imperative to revive the Group, the Group has set the "Resona Group Corporate Mission" which provides basic guides for judgments and behaviour of directors and employees, and the "Resona Way (Resona Group Corporate Promises)", a specific corporate philosophy addressed to stakeholders as the Group's basic philosophy, and publicly announced them. In addition, the Group has defined the "Resona Standard (Resona Group's Behaviour Guidelines)", which provides more specific guidance to carry out the Corporate Mission and the Resona Way for directors and employees.

In addition, the Company and each Group company have set the basic policy regarding compliance and clarify basic frameworks including the roles and duties of officers and employees, organizational structure, code structure, and training and education system. Each Group company strives to strengthen the compliance system proactively, by preparing and implementing the compliance program as an action plan for achieving compliance, every year.

The Group has set up the "Resona Legal Counsel Hotline" which connects to external lawyers contracted by the Group and the "Resona Compliance Hotline" which connects to a section within the Group and an external telephone receptionist company, in order to provide consultation to and receive reports from employees (including their families and retired employees) on compliance, and has also established rules for internal reporting to clarify the protection of hotline users, thereby striving to improve internal reporting systems.

In addition, the Group has established the "Resona Accounting Audit Hotline" as a contact point for reports from external parties concerning improper or inappropriate treatments in accounting, internal control systems related to accounting, and accounting audits.

The "Resona Legal Counsel Hotline" and the "Resona Accounting Audit Hotline" are independent functions from the Group's management, with external law firms acting as contact points for the hotlines and for handling reports. With the aim of improving the reliability and transparency of these hotlines, they are structured so that all matters brought to the hotlines are reported directly to the chairperson of the Audit Committee who is an outside director.

In terms of structure, each of the Company and each Group company have established a compliance division, and a compliance manager responsible for compliance matters has been assigned to sales branches and each division of the headquarters of each Group bank. Further, the compliance issues of the Group are discussed at the "Group Compliance Committee".

The Office of AML (Note) Financial Crime Countermeasure has been established within the compliance division of the Company, and the Group endeavours to strengthen the system to prevent money laundering and financial support to terrorism.

(Note) Abbreviation of Anti-Money Laundering.

(d) Status of development of system regarding risk management

The Company has been working to establish strong risk management systems by defining the "Group Risk Management Policy", which serves as the Group's basic risk management policy, and clarifying types and definitions of risks that should be managed, organization and systems to manage risks, and the basic framework of risk management. More specifically, in line with this policy, the Company has formed integrated risk management divisions and risk management departments by risk category, and has been working to enhance the Group's risk management systems by providing each Group company with policies and criteria for risk management, conducting prior consultation with each Group company on significant matters on risk management, and receiving regular reports on risk status from each Group company. In line with the "Group Risk Management Policy", each Group company has established its own risk management policy, tailored to its size, operations, unique characteristics, risk status and others, and has formed its own appropriate risk management system.

The Group has defined credit risk, which is the primary risk for the Group, as "a risk of losses that arises when the value of assets (including off-balance sheet assets) declines or is destroyed as a result of deterioration of the financial position of obligors and others", and has established the "Group Credit Policy" as the Group's uniform basic policy for credit risk management, thus ensuring thorough control of credit risks. The "Group Credit Policy" has defined rigorous "credit analysis management" and "portfolio management" focusing on risk diversification as two pillars underpinning credit risk management. Such a definition was developed with the view that inappropriate handling of individual credit controls and concentration of credit on specific customers or specific industries were the principal factors that caused the need for large capital injections using public funds.

With regard to managing market risks, liquidity risks, operational risks, reputational risks and other risks, the Group manages those risks by taking appropriate measures tailored to the features of each risk type, including the establishment of risk limits or guidelines on each risk, risk evaluation, and the promulgation of contingency plans.

In addition, in preparation for any event where any risk materializes due to a disaster, system failure, cyber attack or other cause and expands beyond the scope of risk management and develops into a crisis, the Company and each Group company have established crisis control management systems, including basic policies for crisis management, to enable early restoration of operations (continuity of operations/restoration) by rapid responses.
