1. There is no special interest between any of the candidates and the Company.
 2. Candidate for Director Rieko Ido's surname is Oshio through marriage, but she conducts business using her maiden name Ido.
 3. The Company has entered into a directors and officers liability insurance policy with an insurance company, as stipulated in Article 430-3, paragraph (1) of the Companies Act. A summary of the contents of the insurance policy is provided in "Matters Regarding Corporate Officers, (4) Summary of the Contents of the Directors and Officers Liability Insurance Policy" in the Informational Materials for the 41st Annual General Meeting of Shareholders (Matters for Which Document Provision is Omitted from the Matters Subject to Measures for Providing Information in Electronic Format). If this proposal is approved as presented, and all candidates are elected and assume their positions as Directors, the Company plans to include them as insured under such insurance policy. In addition, when such insurance policy is renewed, the Company plans to renew the policy with the same terms.
 4. The Company states in its Articles of Incorporation that the Company may enter into an agreement with an Outside Director to limit their liability for damages up to a certain degree in order to be able to attract capable persons as Outside Directors. The Company has entered into such limited liability agreements with Tomoki Narabayashi, Hiroshi Arioka, and Rieko Ido, and plans to continue such agreements if they are reelected. The outline of the agreement is as follows.
 - The maximum liability for damages of the Company arising from an Outside Director neglecting his/her duties shall be either an amount specified in advance that is not less than 1 million yen, or an amount as prescribed by laws and regulations, whichever is higher.
 5. The Company has submitted notification that Tomoki Narabayashi, Hiroshi Arioka, and Rieko Ido have been appointed as independent officers based on the provisions of the Tokyo Stock Exchange, and plans to continue to designate them as independent officers if elected.

< Shareholder Proposals (Proposals No. 4 and No. 5) >

Proposals No. 4 and No. 5 were made by one shareholder. Note that the summaries of proposals below contain the content submitted by the proposing shareholder in its original text form.

Proposal No. 4 Appropriation of Surplus

(1) Summary of the proposal

The Company makes the appropriation of surplus as set out below.

If the Company itself submits the agenda concerning the appropriation of surplus at the 41st Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders, this Agenda is additionally submitted as an agenda independent from and separate to the agenda submitted by the Company.

This proposal is made independently and in addition to any other proposals regarding the disposal of surplus submitted by any shareholder at this Annual General Meeting. The disposal of surplus will proceed as follows.

A) Type of assets to be distributed

Cash

B) Amount to be distributed per share

An amount of JPY 400 per share, reduced by any per-share dividend amount which is proposed by the Board of Directors and approved at this Annual General Meeting regarding the disposal of surplus and any per-share dividend amount which is approved at this AGM based on the proposal made by any person other than the Proposer (if no proposal concerning the distribution of profit is submitted by the Board of Directors of the Company, JPY 400). Such amount is in addition of any repurchase of treasury stocks submitted by the Company or any shareholder at this Annual General Meeting.

C) Matters on the allocation of dividend assets and the total amount

The total amount of the distribution is obtained by multiplying the amount of distribution per share by the total outstanding shares (excluding the treasury stocks) of the Company as of 31 March 2025 (the amount to be distributed per share is provided in B) above)

D) The day on which the appropriation of surplus becomes effective

The date when the AGM is held

E) The day on which the appropriation of surplus should be commenced

3 weeks after the date of the AGM

(2) Reason for the proposal

The company held a cash balance JPY 35.4 billion of cash and short-term investments as of 31 December 2024, representing over 5 years of SG&A expenses. Besides, it owned JPY 21.4 billion of long-term investments, mainly composed of cross-shareholdings and listed securities with no link to its core business. The company does not have any business rationale nor competencies for holding and managing long-term investments. They should be sold and proceeds distributed to shareholders. Together, cash and long-term investments represented 69% of total assets as of 31 December 2024, highlighting an imbalanced capital structure.

The amount of cash held by the company is excessive, mechanically depressing ROE and weighting on the share price valuation. With current inflation in Japan, cash is also irremediably losing value.

Thanks to its asset-light business model, requiring limited working capital and almost no capital expenditures, the company has been generating strong free cash-flow of JPY 27.4 billion over the last 5 fiscal years. Based on the company's mid-term plan and assuming that revenue growth and profit margin remain in line with historical levels, it is reasonable to think it should generate similar free cash-flows over the next 5 years. Consequently, it is crucial for the Company to promptly improve the capital structure and commit to higher shareholders' returns.

The company's business and financial conditions remain sound, with no interest-bearing debt, resulting in a strong "net cash" position.

Argo Graphics successfully invested JPY 1.4 billion in M&A over the past 10 years. Keeping aside cash reserves of JPY 10 billion in addition to future incoming cash-flows, combined with the company's borrowing capacity at low interest rates, should be more than enough for future bolt-on acquisitions and large M&A investments.

Assuming the Company pays the year-end dividend of JPY 8.5 billion outlined in this Proposal and fully utilizes the JPY 26.0 billion earmarked for acquisition of treasury shares as proposed in Proposal (2) Acquisition of treasury shares, the Company's cash position would amount to JPY 22.3 billion based on financials as of 31 December 2024, a number more than sufficient for normal working capital, internal capex programs and ambitious M&A projects.

The Proposer expects the company to take immediate action to enhance its undervalued corporate value by allocating an appropriate portion of profits attributable to shareholders towards shareholders returns.

Furthermore, the Proposer encourages the company to make an early commitment to future capital policies that align with best-in-class listed companies in its industry, meeting long-term shareholders' expectations.

In light of the above, the Proposer suggests implementing a year-end dividend of JPY 400 per share for the fiscal year ending 31 March 2025, resulting in a consolidated dividend payout ratio of 145% based on the net income guidance communicated by the Company on 6 February 2025. This includes an exceptional dividend of JPY 218 per share, necessary to normalize the Company's balance sheet. Excluding the exceptional dividend, normal year-end dividend of JPY 182 would translate into a dividend payout ratio of 75% for fiscal year ending 31 March 2025, a level the Proposer suggests the Company commits going forward. If the Board of Directors of the Company itself submits the agenda concerning the appropriation of surplus at the 41st Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders, or if a separate shareholder proposal for retained earnings disposition is approved at the upcoming general meeting, the proposed year-end dividend would be adjusted to ensure the total year-end dividend per share equals JPY 400. The total year-end dividend for the fiscal year ending 31 March 2024 would be calculated by multiplying the year-end dividend per share by the total number of issued shares as of 31 March 2025 (excluding treasury shares).

(3) Opinion of the Board of Directors on the Shareholder Proposal

The Board of Directors of the Company opposes the Shareholder's Proposal.

The Company regards the return of profits to shareholders as one of its most important management policies, and its basic policy is to effectively utilize the capital entrusted to it by its shareholders, generate profits through its business activities, and provide for the stable and further expansion of its business base, while also keeping in mind the need to enhance internal reserves. The Company's basic dividend policy is to provide continuous and stable returns to shareholders, taking into account overall profitability and other relevant factors. The Company believes that a well-balanced capital allocation to "investment for growth," "working capital," and "shareholder returns" is extremely important for the sustainable enhancement of corporate value over the mid- to long-term. The Company believes that shareholder returns should be based on a stable dividend payout ratio, with a target of retaining a certain amount of profits for growth investments and other sustainable expansion efforts.

Furthermore, on May 9, 2025, the Company announced its medium-term management plan for the three-year period spanning fiscal years 2025 to 2027 (hereinafter referred to as the "Mid-Term Management Plan"). Under the Mid-Term Management Plan, the Company reviewed its basic dividend policy based on the above basic policy and approach, and adopted a performance-linked dividend system, while giving consideration to stable dividends, with the goal of increasing the consolidated dividend payout ratio to 40% or more by the fiscal year ending March 3, 2028, from the previous target of 30% or more. (The dividend per share for the fiscal year ended March 2025 is set at a total of 110 yen, consisting of an interim dividend of 50 yen and a year-end dividend of 60 yen, resulting in a consolidated dividend payout ratio of 31.5%.) The Company shall continue to provide continuous and stable profit returns to its shareholders based on the Mid-Term Management Plan.

In contrast, Stichting Depository Ascender Global Value Fund (hereinafter referred to as "Ascender"), in its Proposal, requests that the amount of dividends from retained earnings be set at 400 yen per share, on the grounds that the Company does not have the business rationale or suitability to hold and manage listed companies' securities, and that the cash and cash equivalents held by the Company are excessive. However, the Company believes that the amount of dividend proposed by the Ascender is excessive, as it represents a significant percentage of the Company's periodic profit.

In addition, as stated in the "Announcement of Buyback of and Tender Offer Bid for Own Shares" released on May 9, 2025, the Company resolved at its Board of Directors meeting held on the same day to launch a tender offer for up to 4,576,100 of its common shares, with a total acquisition price of 20,478,047,500 yen (the "Tender Offer"). The decision to conduct this Tender Offer was made following consultations with the Company's largest shareholder and affiliated company, SCSK Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "SCSK"). Concurrently with the decision to conduct this Tender Offer, the Company entered into an agreement with SCSK (hereinafter referred to as the "Agreement"), pursuant to which, if the Company implements the Tender Offer, SCSK shall tender 4,160,000 shares of the Company's common stock (representing 19.12% of the total number of shares of the Company's common stock) that it owns (representing 21.79% (4,740,000 shares of the Company's common stock) of the total number of shares of the Company's common stock) in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the Agreement as part of the Tender Offer.

The Company believes that the Ascender's Proposal would impair the agility of the Company's growth investment based on its Mid-Term Management Plan and cause a lack of balance between "shareholder return" and "growth investment," both of which are important to the Company, and will thus prevent the Company from improving its corporate value and securing the common interests of its shareholders over the mid- to long-term.

With regard to the listed companies' securities, the Company's Board of Directors specifically analyses the purpose of holding such securities and the return on investment, including the transactions with the companies in which the Company has held such securities over the past year, and confirms whether such holdings are appropriate. Therefore, the Company believes that Ascender's claim that the Company does not have the theoretical basis or suitability of the business field to hold and manage listed securities is unfounded. The Company's Board of Directors will continue to assess the appropriateness of its holdings of such securities, and the Company will take appropriate action with respect to any securities deemed no longer appropriate to hold.

Proposal No. 5 Acquisition of the Treasury Stocks

(1) Summary of the proposal

We propose the Company acquires its common shares by cash with the maximum number of 4.5 million shares and total acquisition amount of JPY 26.0 billion within one year after the end of the AGM. However, if the total amount of acquisition amount permitted under the Companies Act (the "Distributable Amount") as provided in Article 461 of the Companies Act) is lesser than the proposed amount, the maximum acquisition amount will be limited to the permissible amount under the Companies Act pursuant to Article 156, Paragraph 1 of the Companies Act.

(2) Reason for the proposal

The company's valuation multiples such as price to net earnings and enterprise value to EBIT ratios are low, compared to listed companies in the same industry. In addition, cash and cash equivalents amounted to approximately JPY 35.4 billion as of 31 December 2024, with no interest-bearing liabilities. Capital efficiency needs to be improved, and corporate value enhanced through the acquisition and cancellation of treasury stock.

The company has previously undertaken treasury stock acquisitions as part of shareholders' return measures, aligning with a proactive capital policy. This proposal is consistent with those past efforts.

The company held JPY 21.4 billion of long-term investments, mainly composed of listed securities with no link to its core business, as of 31 December 2024. The company does not have any business rationale nor investment competencies for holding and managing long-term investments. The disposal of all long-term investments presents a suitable opportunity to enhance capital efficiency through the acquisition of treasury stock.

Thus, the Proposer recommends implementing a treasury stock acquisition within one year of this Annual General Meeting, up to a maximum of 4.5 million shares at a total acquisition cost not exceeding JPY 26.0 billion.

Should the disposition of surplus funds be carried out based on Proposal 1 "Appropriation of Surplus", the total shareholder return ratio for the current fiscal year would exceed 100%. However, as noted above, special gains will be recorded with the disposal of long-term investments, and no impact on the company's financial soundness or capacity for future growth investments is anticipated.

All existing treasury shares should be cancelled within one month of the AGM. All treasury shares to be acquired within one year after the end of the AGM should also be cancelled within one month of their acquisition.

The Proposer believes that, as a best practice, all treasury shares should be cancelled and not earmarked for share incentive programs or potential M&A projects.

The cancellation of treasury shares does not have an adverse effect and will enhance the enterprise value of the Company.

(3) Opinion of the Board of Directors on the Shareholder Proposal

The Board of Directors of the Company opposes the Shareholder's Proposal.

The Company considers the return of profits to shareholders to be one of its core management policies, and the share repurchase policy in this Mid-Term Management Plan calls for the flexible implementation of share repurchases, taking into account the status of investments, businesses, and capital, as well as market conditions, with the aim of improving shareholder returns and capital structure through increased capital efficiency. (The share repurchase policy was being discussed by December 27, 2024, while the development of the Mid-Term Management Plan was in process, and remained unchanged until May 9, 2025, the announcement date of the Mid-Term Management Plan.)

In addition, the Company's Articles of Incorporation stipulate that the Company may acquire treasury stock by a resolution of the Board of Directors pursuant to Article 165, Paragraph 2 of the Companies Act. The purpose of this provision is to enable the execution of flexible capital policies in response to changes in the business environment by authorizing the Board of Directors to decide on acquiring treasury stock through market transactions.

Furthermore, based on the aforementioned policy regarding the acquisition of treasury stock and the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation, the Company resolved at the Board of Directors meeting held on May 9, 2025, to implement the Tender Offer for up to 4,576,100 of its shares of common stock, with a maximum acquisition price of 20,478,047,500 yen and, on the same day, entered into the Agreement with SCSK. The Company will continue to flexibly return profits to shareholders, including share buybacks, in accordance with the Mid-Term Management Plan, while maintaining a balance with "investment for growth".

On the other hand, Ascender proposed the purchase of up to 4,500,000 shares of the Company's common stock, at a total purchase price of 26,000,000,000 yen. This proposal is considered to be a request to conduct the share repurchase separately from the Tender Offer already announced by the Company. However, if, in addition to the Tender Offer, the Company was to purchase treasury stock of the same size as the Tender Offer, as requested in the Ascender's Proposal, it would be necessary to prepare approximately 46.4 billion yen in cash. Given that the Company's cash and deposits as of March 31, 2025, amounted to approximately 37.8 billion yen, it would be unfeasible for the Company to conduct the share repurchase requested by Ascender in this proposal in addition to the Tender Offer. In addition, we believe that the acquisition of treasury stock requested by Ascender under the Proposal would impair the agility of the "growth investment" to be made by the Company under the Mid-Term Management Plan, cause a lack of balance between "shareholder return" and "growth investment," both of which are important to the Company, and will thus prevent the Company from improving its corporate value and securing the common interests of its shareholders over the mid- to long-term.

For the above reasons, the Board of Directors of the Company is against this proposal.
