◊ Sales Summary

In September, there was one less day of the week on Sunday than the previous year.

September saw many days of poor weather and a prolonged heatwave, but as temperatures began to drop in the latter half of the month, demand for autumn merchandise increased, leading to steady sales growth.

By product, new sports shoes and apparel such as lightweight long-sleeved tops performed well.

All stores sales grew 1.1% to a year ago in this month.

Existing stores sales also showed a year on year growth of 1.3% compared to the same period in the previous year.
