1. Qualitative Information Regarding the Quarterly Financial Results

(1) Overview of Consolidated Business Results

During the first nine months of the fiscal year under review, the global economy remained relatively robust. In particular, developments in U.S. policies regarding tariffs on imports settled down in the third quarter, helping to stabilize the economic environment. On the other hand, the outlook remained uncertain due to the prolongation of the Ukraine situation as well as ongoing geopolitical risks arising from the Middle Eastern affairs and other factors. Against this backdrop, however, the Komori Group's consolidated net sales amounted to ¥85,337 million, representing a 11.1% increase from the same period of the previous fiscal year. An overview of consolidated net sales by region is set out below.

Overview of Consolidated Net Sales by Region

(In millions of yen)

		Nine Months Ended December 31, 2024	Nine Months Ended December 31, 2025	Increase / (Decrease) (%)
Breakdown	Net sales	76,811	85,337	11.1%
	Japan	24,471	24,153	(1.3%)
	North America	5,696	10,029	76.1%
	Europe	15,985	19,242	20.4%
	Greater China	12,758	10,110	(20.8%)
	Other Regions	17,899	21,800	21.8%

Domestic Sales

In the domestic market, personal consumption recovered constantly on the back of slowing inflation and the stable employment environment. Moreover, inbound tourism demand was supported by a record-breaking number of foreign tourists visiting Japan, with the economy led by domestic demand enjoying modest recovery. This buoyed Komori's mainstay offset business, enabling its customers to constantly undertake investment aimed at boosting energy-saving performance of their printing facilities as well as improving productivity, enhancing efficiency and otherwise streamlining printing operations. As a result, demand for printing facilities remained robust, with domestic sales amounting to ¥24,153 million, almost on par with the sales recorded in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

North America

In North America, upward price revisions were executed in the United States to transfer tariff-related costs, causing personal consumption to stagnate. This also discouraged businesses from undertaking capital expenditure. Amidst these circumstances, however, net sales in this region increased 76.1% from the same period of the previous fiscal year to ¥10,029 million, thanks to contribution by higher sales of security printing presses and large-size offset printing presses.

Europe

In Europe, tariff-related negotiations with the United States settled down, reducing the degree of uncertainty over the future and causing exports to recover. Moreover, personal consumption was supported by robust employment and wages. These factors, in turn, contributed to modest but consistent economic recovery. Consequentially, net sales in this region increased 20.4% year on year to ¥19,242 million, thanks to contribution by orders received in the previous fiscal year due to the

(English translation of "KESSAN TANSHIN" originally issued in Japanese.)

Company's participation in a large-scale exhibition.

Greater China

In Greater China, the economy was on a decelerating track due to the continuation of such negative factors as stagnant investment in real estate and large-scale infrastructure. With regard to capital expenditure associated with printing machinery, while large printing companies continued to undertake investment aimed at streamlining their printing operations, other customers, especially middle-sized printing companies engaged in commercial printing, maintained a cautious stance toward executing investment. Consequentially, net sales in this region decreased 20.8% year on year to ¥10,110 million due to the impact of economic deceleration, in addition to the absence of last-minute demand prior to price revisions undertaken in the previous fiscal year.

Other Regions

Other Regions include ASEAN, India and Oceania as well as Central and South America. In these regions, demand for printing facilities has grown stronger in step with economic expansion. As a result, net sales in Other Regions rose 21.8% year on year to ¥21,800 million, due in part to contribution by orders received in the previous fiscal year for large-scale printing facilities.

The cost of sales ratio improved from the same period of the previous fiscal year due primarily to the changing sales mix. Selling, general and administrative (SG&A) expenses increased, reflecting such factors as year-on-year growth in shipping expenses in step with higher net sales and higher R&D expenses. Taking these factors into account, Komori posted operating profit of ¥6,938 million, an increase of 108.1% from the same period of the previous fiscal year.

The Company posted ordinary profit of ¥7,987 million, which represents an increase of 104.8% from the same period of the previous fiscal year.

For the first nine months of the fiscal year under review, the Company recorded profit before income taxes of ¥8,416 million, which represents an increase of 100.8% from the same period of the previous fiscal year. As a result, Komori posted profit attributable to owners of the parent totaling ¥5,352 million, which represents an increase of 83.7% compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Business performance by reportable segment is as follows.

1. Japan

The "Japan" reportable segment includes the Company's sales in Japan and direct sales to distributors in certain overseas regions as well as sales of security printing presses to overseas customers. These overseas regions consist of a portion of Asia and Central and South America, as well as other regions. Reflecting the Company's performance in the above regions, net sales in the reportable segment "Japan" totaled ¥40,484 million, a year-on-year decrease of 1.5%. Operating profit totaled ¥8,071 million, a year-on-year increase of 89.3%, due in part to lower corporate spending on advertising.

2. North America

The "North America" reportable segment comprises sales posted by the Company's sales subsidiaries
(English translation of "KESSAN TANSHIN" originally issued in Japanese.)

in the United States. The Company's performance in this reportable segment was affected by the operating conditions described in the section "Overview of Consolidated Net Sales by Region," above. As a result, net sales in this reportable segment totaled ¥10,083 million, a year-on-year increase of 77.0%. Operating profit totaled ¥516 million, compared with operating loss of ¥200 million in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

3. Europe

The "Europe" reportable segment consists of sales recorded by the Company's sales subsidiaries in Europe, those recorded by a subsidiary corporate group that manufactures and markets package printing presses (also in Europe), and those recorded by a subsidiary corporate group based in the region that manufactures and sells post-press machinery. As a result of the factors explained in "Overview of Consolidated Net Sales by Region," net sales in this reportable segment totaled ¥19,242 million, a year-on-year increase of 20.4%. Operating loss totaled ¥2,135 million, compared with operating loss of ¥1,312 million in the same period of the previous fiscal year, due mainly to human capital-related investment executed by the above subsidiary corporate group that manufactures and markets package printing presses in order to accommodate the growing volume of orders received.

4. Greater China

The "Greater China" reportable segment consists of sales recorded by the Company's sales subsidiaries in Hong Kong, Shenzhen (China) and Taiwan as well as those recorded by its printing machinery production and sales subsidiary in Nantong, China. As a result of the factors explained in "Overview of Consolidated Net Sales by Region," net sales in this reportable segment totaled ¥7,617 million, a year-on-year decrease of 21.0%. Operating profit totaled ¥12 million, representing a decrease of 18.2% from the same period of the previous fiscal year.

5. Others

"Others" includes sales recorded by the Company's sales subsidiaries in India, Singapore and Malaysia. Given the operating conditions mentioned above in "Other Regions," net sales in this reportable segment totaled ¥5,469 million, a year-on-year increase of 24.8%. Operating profit amounted to ¥480 million, representing an increase of 29.1% from the same period of the previous fiscal year.

In the first nine months of the fiscal year under review, Group highlights were as follows:

- Strengthening of the Group's maintenance service structure in Japan

On October 1, 2025, Komori opened a new contact center with the objective of strengthening its service structure in Japan. Previously, the Group had accommodated various customer requests, including those for technical consultation and repair as well as those involving orders for parts, through phone-based contacts maintained at 11 separate locations nationwide. However, the newly opened contact center serves as the consolidated contact for these requests as part of the Company's efforts to provide consistent service quality and quicker responses. This facility is also equipped with dedicated staff specializing in particular products so that customers can enjoy greater convenience. Furthermore, the contact center also receives machinery-related inquiries around the clock, enabling the Group to secure a structure capable of providing trustworthy customer support in a swifter manner. Leveraging this facility, the Komori Group will strive to streamline its service operations in Japan and enhance customer satisfaction.

(2) Financial Condition

Total Assets

As of December 31, 2025, total assets stood at ¥180,633 million, up ¥7,717 million (4.5%) from the end of the previous fiscal year. Key factors increasing total assets were a ¥5,908 million increase in inventories, a ¥4,071 increase in investments and other assets, a ¥2,260 million increase in notes and accounts receivable—trade, and contract assets. Key factors decreasing total assets included a ¥7,746 million decrease in cash and deposits.

Liabilities and Net Assets

Liabilities as of December 31, 2025 were ¥60,882 million, up ¥3,466 million (6.0%) from the end of the previous fiscal year. Key factors increasing liabilities included a ¥9,000 million increase in corporate bonds, a ¥1,906 million increase in contract liabilities, a ¥1,283 million increase in noncurrent liabilities—other. Key factors reducing liabilities included a ¥10,000 million decrease in current portion of bonds.

Net assets totaled ¥119,750 million, up ¥4,251 million (3.7%) from the end of the previous fiscal year. Key positive factors leading to the increase in net assets included a ¥2,446 million increase in valuation difference on available-for-sale securities, a ¥1,096 million increase in foreign currency translation adjustment, and a ¥913 million increase in retained earnings. Key negative factors affecting net assets included a ¥207 million decrease in remeasurements of defined benefit plans.

Equity Ratio

The equity ratio as of December 31, 2025 stood at 66.3%, down 0.5 of a percentage point from 66.8% at the end of the previous fiscal year.

(3) Consolidated Operating Results Forecasts and Other Information on the Future Outlook

The Company has not revised its previous forecasts, disclosed as of May 14, 2025, on the consolidated operating results for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026.

3. Matters related to the impairment of noncurrent assets or the recording of goodwill by reportable segment

(Significant change in the amount of goodwill)

In the reportable segment "Europe," Komori Chambon S.A.S. ("KCM"), a consolidated subsidiary of Komori Corporation, acquired a business managed by Bernal, LLC ("Bernal") in the first three months ended June 30, 2024 through Komori Chambon USA Corporation, a KCM subsidiary based in the United States. The business in question engages in the manufacture and sale of rotary die tools, as well as related services, and Bernal is one of America's leading manufacturers in this field.

The abovementioned event resulted in an increase of ¥1,174 million in goodwill as of the end of the first nine months of the above fiscal year.

In addition, the amount of goodwill is provisional as the allocation of acquisition cost has yet to be completed.
