Japan Lifeline Announces Change of Trade Name

TOKYO, JAPAN – May 26, 2026 – Japan Lifeline Co., Ltd. (“the Company”) hereby announces that it has resolved, at the meeting of the Board of Directors held today, to change its trade name as described below, subject to approval of partial amendment of the Articles of Incorporation at the 46th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders to be held on June 26, 2026. Details of the partial amendment of the Articles of Incorporation will be disclosed separately.

1. Reason for Change

The Company will change its trade name to JLL Med from Japan Lifeline, aiming to accelerate the shift to a “Global MedTech Company.”

The new trade name embodies both the “heritage” of an identity that the Company has cultivated since its founding and “evolution” into a global company. “JLL” represents the Company’s unwavering commitment to inheriting the DNA of “Japan Lifeline,” which is a testament to the trust that we have built together with everyone on the medical frontline in Japan. The newly added “Med (Medical)” is the declaration of the Company’s determination to evolve into a Global MedTech Company that contributes to health and lives of people not only in Japan but all over the world as a professional supporting the future of medical care.

With this change of the company name as a first step, the Company will combine global-standard innovation with frontline-oriented principle, thereby providing next-generation medical solutions.

2. New Trade Name

JLL Med Kabushiki Kaisha (JLL Med Inc. in English)

3. Schedule Date of Change

March 1, 2027 (scheduled)

* This change of the trade name is subject to approval of the partial amendment of the Articles of Incorporation at the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders to be held on June 26, 2026.

■ About New Corporate Logo

- Concept of Brand Mark

The brand mark featuring a kanji character “心 (heart)” is an enduring legacy that represents the Company’s identity from its founding. This expresses the Company’s strong resolve since its founding to put a top priority on “its heart to patients,” which is a starting point of the medical care, even when times change and the Company intends to accelerate global expansion. Furthermore, the color “Comfort Blue” of the brand mark represents pioneering innovation to pave a path to the future of medical care and integrity rooted in respect for life.

- Concept Behind Logotype

The logotype uses a simple, highly legible typeface as its base, with a bold weight to express the “unwavering trust” as a professional that supports medical care. We have refreshed the design to reflect the evolution of the new company name “JLL Med” and to demonstrate the Company’s strong presence in global markets.
