Performance in FY2025

Sales: 27.2 billion yen (YoY +0.1%)

Operating profit: 1.1 billion yen (YoY -49.5%)

- Sales remained flat due to increased sales of Couplings and Linear Pumps, despite reduced demand affected by U.S. tariffs
- Operating profit significantly decreased from the previous fiscal year due to increased costs associated with the new plant operations and higher material costs
- Profit attributable to owners of parent increased 59.4% YoY due to recording subsidies (2.3 billion yen) related to new plant investment

Plans for FY2026

Sales: 29.1 billion yen (YoY +7.0%)

Operating profit: 1.7 billion yen (YoY +48.1%)

- Capture the expanding demand for environmentally friendly products and achieve sales growth through proactive expansion into hydrogen and new energy-related businesses
- Profit increase expected through domestic and overseas product price revisions and expansion of projects for semiconductor industry, automotive industry, and new fields

Shareholder Return

Forecast annual dividend for FY2026 is 32 yen per share

- Planning interim dividend of 16 yen and year-end dividend of 16 yen with a 40% payout ratio

*Uncertainties due to the Middle East situation are not factored into the full-year forecast.

*Uncertainties due to the Middle East situation are not factored into the full-year forecast.

- Capture the expanding demand for environmentally friendly products and drive sales growth through proactive expansion into hydrogen and new energy-related businesses
- Profit increase expected through product price revisions in Japan and overseas and expansion of projects for the semiconductor and automotive industries, as well as new fields
- Profit attributable to the parent company is expected to decrease due to the absence of one-time factors from the previous fiscal year (subsidy income)

Factors Affecting Profit under the Performance Plans for FY2026

Operating profit of 1,750 million yen is expected for FY2026

[Breakdown]

- Increase of 1,378 million yen due to sales increase from price revisions and product mix
- Approximately 200 million yen increase in manufacturing costs in the previous fiscal year due to operational suspension will be eliminated this fiscal year with the start of the new plant (reflecting the absence of one-time factors)

Capital Investment and Depreciation

(Million yen)

- Capital Investment (■ Capital Investment for the new plant)
- Depreciation
- Research and development expenses

Construction of the new plant, promotion of factory automation, improvement of production efficiency

- Investments in the new plant totaled approximately 14.3 billion yen over three fiscal years (FY2023-FY2025), with depreciation starting in June 2025
- Depreciation at TOHOKU NITTO KOHKI for FY2026 is expected to be 1.1 billion yen

Enhancing our earning power to make a great leap in the next decade

Key Points

- 1. Enhance earning power and expand investment into growth areas
(hydrogen- and new energy-related products / automatic labor-saving and environmentally friendly products / strengthen overseas strategies)
- 2. Optimize production systems and strengthen cost competitiveness
(start operation of new domestic plant / review global production system / consider alliances and M&A with other companies)
- 3. Establish a management foundation for achieving sustainable growth
(innovate enterprise system / promote DX / sustainable management)

Medium-Term Management Plan 2026 Progress

- The numerical targets of the Medium-Term Management Plan 2026 are expected to fall short due to changes in the external environment and initial decline in profitability associated with the new plant start-up phase
- On the other hand, in addition to the start of operations at the new plant during the plan period, we expect profit contribution in the next medium-term plan period through proactive expansion into hydrogen and new energy-related businesses

(billion yen)	FY2025 Results	FY2026 Forecast	FY2026 Target
Consolidated sales	27.2 billion yen	29.1 billion yen	32.0 billion yen
Consolidated operating income	1.1 billion yen	1.7 billion yen	3.5 billion yen
EBITDA	3.1 billion yen	3.9 billion yen	6.2 billion yen
ROE	3.6%	2.4%	Aim to exceed the cost of capital

Results

- Strengthen earnings power and expand investment into growth areas
 - ✓ Adoption of CUPLA for hydrogen use in passenger vehicles is progressing steadily
 - ✓ Expanded product lineup for automation, labor-saving, and environmentally friendly applications, including:
 - 7 models for robotic integration
 - 4 environmentally friendly products
- Optimize production systems and strengthen cost competitiveness
 - ✓ New plant completed as planned
- Established a management foundation for achieving sustainable growth

Issues

- Overall sales growth slowed due to changes in the business environment associated with geopolitical risks
- Sales contribution from hydrogen and automation-related products in growth areas is limited as they are in the start-up phase, and due to delays in launching new products
- Profitability declined due to slowing sales growth and rising material costs
- Insufficient shareholder returns and balance sheet management for improving capital efficiency

- Enhance profitability through thorough implementation of price revisions, expansion of value-added products, and full-scale profit contribution from the new plant.
- Based on the progress of “Medium-Term Management Plan 2026,” we will review issues and plan to announce “Medium-Term Management Plan 2029” during fiscal year 2026.

FY2026~

Measures to Improve Profitability

Thorough implementation of price revisions

Implement price revisions sequentially in Japan and overseas. Promote appropriate price pass-through across all product lines.

Actively develop sales activities

Strengthen initiatives to develop new business fields and expand sales of value-added products. Develop new overseas sales channels.

Group-wide cost structure reform

Further promote company-wide cost visualization.
Strictly manage fixed costs and optimize allocation of management resources.

Pursuit of an optimal group-wide production system

Reduce manufacturing costs through expanded in-house production, process consolidation, and increased automation.
