2. Reason for the Announcement

The Company did not previously disclose specific forecasts for consolidated ordinary profit and profit attributable to owners of parent because it was difficult to make a reasonable estimate of the financial results of an affiliate that is not controlled by the Company Group.

However, as the information necessary to estimate the full-year financial results of the affiliate has become available and the Company is now able to calculate its consolidated earnings forecast, the Company has decided to disclose forecasts for consolidated ordinary profit and profit attributable to owners of parent.

Furthermore, should any event arise that may affect the financial results of the Company Group, the Company will promptly disclose such information.
