2. Reasons

The Company considers stable, continuous and proactive return of profits to shareholders to be an important management issue. Our basic policy is to prioritize strengthening R&D investment and capital investment, while securing the necessary internal reserves for future business expansion, and to distribute surplus funds with a consolidated dividend payout ratio of approximately 20% to 30%.

Based on this basic policy, the Company has decided to pay an interim dividend of 32 yen per share, as most recent forecast with a record date of September 30, 2026.

There have been no changes to the most recent forecast (announced on August 6, 2026) regarding the expected year-end dividend. The annual dividend per share will be 65 yen, and the consolidated dividend payout ratio on an adjusted profit-for-the-period basis will be 25.2%.
