Reasons for revision

The Company understands the importance of increasing corporate value and returning profits to shareholders, and therefore carefully considers future business expansion, expected capital demand for equipment and R&D investment, and improvement of the financial position of the Company in addition to business performance. The basic policy of the Company is to continue providing stable dividends with a consolidated dividend payout ratio of roughly 30% after the aforementioned considerations.

In accordance with this policy, the dividend for the second quarter-end will be 21 yen per share, as forecast in the announcement dated May 12, 2026. Based on the “Notice Regarding Revisions of Earnings Forecasts” announced today, the year-end dividend forecast for the fiscal year ending March 2027 has been increased to 27 yen per share, an increase of 6 yen per share from the previously announced forecast. As a result, the forecast annual dividend for the fiscal year has been revised to 48 yen per share, including the interim dividend of 21 yen per share.

The earnings forecasts have been prepared based on information available as of the date of publication of this material, and actual results may differ from the forecasts due to various factors in the future.
